Reported Movement Of Soviet Troops Stirrs London

Much Concern Felt In London On Soviet Move

Report Soviet Columns Moving In Iran Cause Widespread Consternation

BIG THREE PARLEY IS BEING URGED

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, March 13.—A reported sweep by heavily motorized Soviet columns westward in Iran, comprising a potential threat to Turkey and Iraq as well as the rich Persian oil fields, caused widespread consternation today in London.

The British foreign office said today that His Majesty's government regards the Soviet-Iran situation "in the gravest possible light."

Urges Big Three Meeting

As a result, efforts are being made to expedite an early meeting of the Big Three foreign ministers in the hope of forestalling a major crisis that might collapse the United Nations organization even before its scheduled meeting in New York toward the end of this month.

Moscow newspapers continued to emphasize Soviet Russia's changing border requirements but Reuters' military correspondent suggested that caution be utilized in dealing with current troop movements. He emphasized that all towns thus far named in connection with the movements lie within the Soviet zone of occupation.

PA NEWS OBSERVES

A barber shop on the South Side was displaying a vase of pussy willows as Pa News passed in making the rounds on Tuesday.

Street lights were burning brightly on Long avenue, Tuesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock. Evidently some sort of test was being made of the lighting system.

Something new has been added on the list of things that the local bus operators must do. Pa News notes that upon approaching the railroad crossings the drivers must open the door of the bus to look and listen for approaching trains. This has not been done previously, except on the interurban buses which have done it for many years.

Another sign of the approaching spring was noted on Long avenue, Tuesday afternoon. A farmer was seen with his plow loaded on a trailer, heading it through the city to some farm in the vicinity.

Hardly a day passes by but what some citizens approaches the old Aiken school building, thinking that the ration board still has offices here. Pa News, just recently directed one lady to the Court House Annex, where the board now maintains offices.

Pa News notes that many of the first streets of the city will need quite a bit of attention during the spring months to put them in shape for the traveling public. Some streets have a number of large gullies or holes in them which are very hard on automobile springs.

Post-war building is gaining momentum. Pa News observes in his travels about the city. A large brick structure in the process of erection, on Scioto street, was the center of

Prepare To Open Trial Of Japs For Killing American

YOKOHAMA, March 13.—(INS)—Preparations were complete today for the opening Friday of the joint trial of five Japanese on charges of beating to death Pvt. Everett Tyler, war prisoner from Glen Easton, W. Va.

Tyler was killed in the Tanagawa prison camp near Osaka.

Dapper Gunman Wounds Two In Hotel In Chicago

CHICAGO, March 13.—(INS)—A Lansing Mich. man was sought by Chicago police today for the shooting of a man and woman in the foyer of a north side hotel.

Two of five shots fired by a diminutive man attired in formal evening clothes wounded Charles H. Keuhl, 38, and Mrs. Patricia Ann Fisher, 38, wife of Keuhl's associate in the real estate business.

One bullet struck Keuhl near the heart and the other inflicted a hip wound on Mrs. Fisher. Physicians reported both were in satisfactory condition at a hospital.

Dapper Gunman

Sought as the dapper gunman was a man who registered at a nearby hotel under the name of Charles Monell and gave a Lansing address. A full dress suit and parts of a revolver were found by detectives in his room.

From information provided by Lansing authorities Police Capt. Kyran Phelan said he believed the man sought is Charles Bernheim, 32, wanted in the Michigan city on a charge of larceny by bailee.

Keuhl and Mrs. Fisher had just emerged from the hotel cocktail lounge when the tail-coated gunman burst into the foyer and started shooting. Mrs. Fisher screamed:

"Put that thing away, you'll hurt somebody."

The gunman then directed his fire toward the couple and fled.

Both Keuhl and his companion said they had never seen the man before.

Urges Caution On Reports Soviet Forces On Move

LONDON, March 13.—(INS)—Reuters military correspondent in Iran said today that caution should be used in treating reports of Soviet troops moving southwest through Tabriz with combat equipment and tank support.

He suggested that such reports be treated gingerly until more specific details on the location of the troops are revealed, and pointed out that towns so far named in dispatches are within the Soviet zone of occupation.

Borders Snowbound

The correspondent said reports of westward movement by troops are open to question because roads from Tabriz to the borders of both Turkey and Iraq are totally snowbound.

He said, however, that the Russians might intervene at the request of Iran's Premier Sultaneh against an Iranian army which is ordered by men generally hostile to the left.

This army, numbering about 90,000 men, was pictured as possibly seeking to oust Sultaneh and establish a regime headed by a military dictatorship.

Lehman Resigns As U.N.R.R.A. Head

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—Herbert H. Lehman entered private life today after announcing his resignation as head of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

Lehman said in a letter to the UNRRA council which meets in Atlantic City Friday that he was resigning upon advice of his physician for much needed rest.

Lehman said that the work has greatly taxed his strength and that he must be freed of administrative duties and responsibilities for some months.

American-Russian Issue Over Iran Is Approaching Climax

BY WILLIAM E. ZIMMERMAN
WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—The American-Russian issue over Iran advanced toward a climax today in the wake of reports that Soviet combat equipment has been moving southward into Iran for more than a week.

The reports were revealed by the state department which officially asked the Russian government whether such movements have taken place and if so, the reasons for such action.

Observers in Washington regarded the reports as extremely significant and placing further strain on U. S.-Soviet relations in view of America's demands that Russian troops withdraw from Iran under its treaty commitments to get out by March 2.

The second note to Moscow on the Iranian situation was sent out late last week a short time after the first.

Deny U. S. On Verge Of Break With Russia

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—The White House branded as "inaccurate" today stories published in the British press reporting that the American government is on the verge of a diplomatic rupture with Russia.

Attention of the White House was drawn to articles appearing in London papers stating that President Truman was seeking to bring about a new meeting of the "Big Three" to settle Anglo-American-Russian problems. Published reports also said the president had been in direct communication with Prime Minister Attlee, and that Washington is on the "diplomatic edge."

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross branded the stories as alarmist in nature.

"That type of story is very easy to write," Ross said, implying that they were based on reporter's imagination.

Nomination Of Edwin Pauley Is Withdrawn

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—President Truman today withdrew the nomination of Edwin W. Pauley to be undersecretary of the navy at Pauley's request.

The president so notified the senate through its secretary, Leslie Biddle.

The action withdrawing Pauley's nomination was announced at the White House in an exchange of letters between Pauley and the president.

Lack Of Vessels Saved England From Invasion

NUERNBERG, March 13.—(INS)—Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kesselring admitted today that only a lack of German vessels saved England from an invasion after Dunkirk which perhaps would have ended the war in Germany's favor.

Testifying before the Allied war crimes tribunal in defense of former Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering, the field marshal who admittedly advocated the cross-channel invasion said the German air force was "unable to fulfill its task."

He admitted under cross-examination that the German "police state" was held together by the political police and the concentration camp system established by Goering.

Monetary Meeting Debates Site For Banking Fund

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 13.—(INS)—Selection of a site for the international banking fund loaned today as the major debate before the world monetary conference at Savannah.

Indications were that the committee designated to pick the place would choose Washington.

Selection of the capital city would fall in line with the expressed desires of the powerful United States delegation but would come in opposition to the United Nations' Organization.

Trend To Right In Italy's Election

ROME, March 13.—(INS)—A trend to the right in Italy's first free election in 26 years was noted today as returns poured in from municipal elections held Sunday.

Tollies from 308 towns and villages out of a total of 437 communities voting showed the rightist Christian Democrat party on top in 126 localities. Socialist-Communist captured 105 areas.

MOTORIST DROWNED

BURGETTSTOWN, Pa., March 13.—(INS)—The Washington county coroner's office today said that Andrew W. Bank, 25, of Cherry Valley, was drowned when his car plunged over a 15-foot embankment and landed upside down in a small creek near Burgettstown.

Witness Says Jean Fatur Died Of Suffocation

Toledo Pathologist Says Murder Victim Did Not Have Fractured Skull

EXPERTS TESTIFY HERGE IS SANE

Jean Fatur, twenty year old sweetheart of Irvin C. Herge who killed her on October 17, 1945, died of strangulation or suffocation. She did not die of a fractured skull, nor was she drowned.

The condition of her lungs and heart at the time of the autopsy November 2, 1945 in Napoleon, O., showed a struggle for air before her death.

This was the testimony this morning of Dr. Thomas L. Ramsey, pathologist of St. Vincent's Hospital, Toledo, O., who testified in the Lawrence County court house where testimony is being heard to determine the degree of Irvin C. Herge's guilt in his plea of guilty of murder.

Dr. Ramsey's testimony was clear and concise and was heard by the jury in the courtroom.

Dr. Ramsey testified that he had examined the body of Jean Fatur and found no fractures of the skull.

There was no skull fracture in Miss Fatur's head he said. The bones in her head had been broken, and there was a contusion on the back of her head under which blood had flowed. The blood did not get into the cranial cavity.

Her lungs were collapsed and retracted, and the right side of her heart was dilated. This, Dr. Ramsey explained, indicated that there was an insufficiency of air and that the heart strained to pump blood into the lungs. Proving his point that she was not drowned he said there was no dirt or sand in her lungs, which would have been present had she drowned.

In his opinion Jean Fatur was dead when she was thrown into the Maumee River near Napoleon, O., and from the condition of the body on November 2 he said she had been dead for about ten days. He also said she was pregnant.

HERGE IS SANE

The second highlight of the testimony was the appearance of Dr. Robert H. Israel, superintendent of the Warren, Pa. state hospital for the insane. He testified that he had examined Herge in the county jail (Continued on Page Seventeen)

London Paper Says Truman Planning Appeal To Stalin

LONDON, March 13.—(INS)—A Washington dispatch to the London Evening News today quoted what it termed unconfirmed reports that President Truman was contemplating a personal appeal to Premier Joseph Stalin should the Iranian situation deteriorate further.

The dispatch said Truman might telephone or cable the Soviet premier unless a reply is received shortly to the Washington note inquiring into Russian activities in Iran. It also said that the count of ballots has been fraudulent.

Batavia Dispatch Reports Clash In Western Java

LONDON, March 13.—(INS)—A Reuter Batavia dispatch said today British Thunderbolt fighters had strafed Indonesian extremist forces attacking British convoys near Soekaboemi in western Java.

Attacks on convoys have cost the British 10 dead and 59 wounded during the past three days.

(Reuter said earlier that a battle raging near Soekaboemi "already is giving signs of developing into one of the heaviest engagements involving British troops in western Java.")

New Civil War Feared In Greece

LONDON, March 13.—(INS)—The London News Chronicle reported from Athens today that Greece is headed toward another civil war.

Such a conflict was said to be inevitable if Greek right-wing groups, with British backing, are determined to hold elections on March 31. The report said center and left-wing forces in Greece are equally determined to win a postponement of elections.

Inflation Threat Near, Lorenz Says

Addressing a dinner meeting of the service clubs of New Castle in The Castleton, Tuesday evening, Otto Lorenz, noted economist and market analyst sounded a warning that the workmen of the nation, in enforcing their demands for higher wages, are building an economy which may overtop and engulf them in enforced idleness.

The only remedy he asserted was the teaching of the system which has brought America to the great pinnacle of comfortable living, the system of free enterprise, of competition between rival manufacturers, and the law of supply and demand.

Mystery Shooting In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY, March 13.—(INS)—Police held a dark-haired, pretty woman today in connection with the fatal shooting of Johnny Murray, 40, Kansas City tavern owner in his hotel room. She was not immediately identified.

A taxicab driver said the woman, in her early thirties, left the hotel and stepped into his cab just before last midnight.

The driver said she remarked: "I just killed a man and I want you to drive me to St. Louis."

The driver said he at first believed the woman was intoxicated. But he drove her immediately to a cab stand where he was ostensibly to cash a check for her.

Woman Shoots Kansas City Tavern Owner To Death In Hotel Room

When he arrived, he asked dispatchers to check with the hotel to see if her story was true.

Then, without delay, he drove slowly toward the city limits as the woman lay down in the back seat. Police overtook the cab on the outskirts of Kansas City.

When taken into custody, the woman refused to discuss the shooting.

A hotel spokesman said Murray returned from a Florida vacation Monday night.

Police said the woman told them where they would find a gun which had been concealed in Murray's room.

Begin Parley On New Wage Scale For Coal Miners

New Technique Introduced By Lewis—Definite "Target" Not Given Yet

SPECIFIC TERMS TO DEVELOP LATER

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—John L. Lewis avoided an exact "target" today as he bargained with the nation's soft coal operators to improve the position of a half million miners.

The 1946 bituminous wage conference entered its second day with the specific terms sought by the U. M. W. president left open to collective bargaining.

Lewis outlined generally the goal of his mine workers, but declined to specify any definite settlement necessary to avert a possible coal strike April 1.

The veteran labor leader was expected to reinforce today his broad demand for higher wages, shorter hours, unionization of foremen and a health and welfare fund for mine workers.

Specific Figures Delayed
Union aides said, however, that no specific figures will be mentioned. These will be left to closed negotiating sessions in the coming weeks between subcommittees of the U. M. W. and the operators.

Industry representatives were pleased at Lewis' attitude on collective bargaining and welcomed his new technique of avoiding any hard-and-fast demands at the outset of the parley.

The annual coal wage battle got under way with an hour and a half address by Lewis to a public meeting of operators and the 250-man policy committee of the union.

The public sessions were to continue today and perhaps tomorrow before the actual give-and-take negotiating begins.

Lewis told the opening day's conference:

"We think you want peace, stable conditions, increased production and lower unit costs. That's what you are asking for now. That is what we are prepared to give."

Veterans Administration Official Tells Veterans Of Educational Opportunities

POST TO URGE COORDINATION HERE

Addressing members of the Perry S. Gaston Post, American Legion, at their meeting in the social rooms of the post on Neshannock avenue Tuesday evening, Dr. Clyde W. Gleason, of the Advertisement division of the U. S. Veterans Administration, at Pittsburgh, outlined the plans of the V. A. for a broadening of the education program for returned veterans.

Veterans, under the G. I. Bill of Rights, are guaranteed an opportunity of furthering the education which their service in the armed forces denied them, which can of many kinds, and for which the government will pay. Any benefits accruing under this educational plan will not be deducted from any future bonus which the veterans might receive, he explained. This can also include on-the-job training for veterans.

Top Negotiator In GM Strike Sees Early Agreement

Predicts Announcement Of End Of Strike Will Come During Day

ALL-NIGHT PARLEY CONTINUES TODAY

(BULLETIN)
DETROIT, March 13.—(INS)—A top negotiator in the General Motors strike predicted about noon today that the decision of the GM-UAW-CIO bargainers would be announced shortly. He said that barring unexpected developments a joint announcement of settlement of the 113-day auto tie-up would be made soon.

The negotiator left the conference room to make the exclusive disclosure during a pause in the nearly 18 hours of nearly continuous bargaining to end the nation's costliest work stoppage.

Conference Began Last Night
The all-night conference began at 9 p. m. Tuesday following a four-hour afternoon session. By noon today the conferees had been bargaining continuously for the past 14 1/2 hours.

News from the conference room indicated representatives of the 175,000 GM strikers had proposed a conditional acceptance of the 12 1/2 cent wage boost offered by the corporation.

It was learned that a tentative agreement had been reached in the marathon session on the controversy—(Continued on Page Two)

Seek To Bring Return Of Order In Manchuria

CHUNGKING, March 13.—(INS)—Plans to bring some order out of the chaotic Manchurian situation began shaping up today amid warnings by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of the dangers of civil war.

It was announced "cease-fire" field teams will soon be en route to Manchuria following an agreement by the "committee of three."

It was earlier feared in Chinese circles the Russians would demand representations on such teams but the committee of three evidently took the Russian withdrawal from Mukden as an indication the Russians—officially, at least—will leave settlement of the Chinese difficulties to others.

Contrary To Doctrine
In an address to the Kuomintang, Chiang Kai-shek declared:

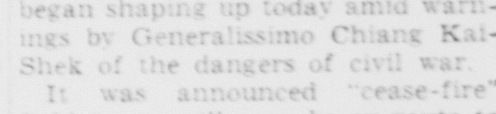

"There are many people who believe that the party can use military superiority to settle civil disputes. That is contrary to the doctrine of Sun Yat-sen for peaceful reconstruction."

"Our party is in a leading position and so is responsible for reconstruction of the country. We should not bicker among ourselves over small things but go ahead and set an example to others."

A partial explanation of the Russian moves in Manchuria was given in a Central News dispatch which said the Russians gave transportation—(Continued on Page Two)

Who said that March was a lion, or windy or chilly or tough, who suggested the month was a terror, in spades and usually played mighty rough, it's a base canard and a libel. The weather is much more like May, and the buds and the frogs are both coming along, and it's just 32 today. I can't tell you much about April, the rains may be sticky as starch, but as far as he goes those wanted wild blows have been absent most strangely from March.

Goering Takes Witness Stand In Our Defense

NUERNBERG, March 13.—(INS)—The Nuernberg war crimes trial took a dramatic turn today when Hermann Goering, pudgy former Nazi deputy fuhrer, took the witness stand in his own defense.

Wearing a gray uniform with brass buttons but lacking any of the decorations with which he once adorned himself, the erstwhile reichsmarshal strode across the courtroom from the prisoners' dock.

Speaking rapidly, Goering took the oath and launched into a short account of his turbulent life upon the request of Otto Stahmer, his attorney.

Takes Stand

Goering took the stand after Field Marshal Gen. Albert Kesselring, former commander-in-chief of Nazi air forces in the Polish campaign and the "Battle of Britain", testified in his behalf.

Kesselring yesterday sought clumsily to defend Goering by asserting that destruction of Coventry, Warsaw and Rotterdam as "fully justified" by the Hague convention.

This morning the field marshal resumed his testimony, admitting that 282 Italians were executed in retaliation for the Rome bomb plot of 1944.

Goering, launching into his autobiography, described his meeting with Adolf Hitler in 1922 at Munich, went to the rapid house-painter's meetings, and listened enthralled at the little man's condemnation of the Versailles treaty.

Goering admitted that through these meetings he became a "convicted Hitlerite". He explained that national socialism meant the mobilizing of German workers against the Versailles pact.

BEGIN PARLEY ON NEW WAGE SCALE FOR COAL MINERS

breaking wartime performance; that conditions in the coal fields must be improved if the industry is to attract the manpower necessary for survival.

Pointing out that the British labor government is now resorting to forced labor to man England's mines, Lewis declared:

"It is not only an act of humanity—it is good business to pay and treat the miners in a manner to retain their self respect, protect their lives and preserve their health to permit them to continue to render this increasingly valuable public service."

The UMW chief said the miners "haven't been happy" with the existing wartime contract which called for a 54-hour week, longer hours than any other American industry, and resulted in the greatest production in history.

Can Work More Hours

Lewis asserted that "you can always increase your wages if you are strong enough and healthy enough to work more hours."

Shorter hours, Lewis said, will result in "vast savings" in labor costs, higher efficiency among miners and lower unit costs. He listed the labor costs in the Appalachian area, with Illinois and Indiana added, at $1.79 per ton of coal mined.

The UMW leader said the miners could have asked for reopening of their wage contract months ago, but waited until now so there would be "no possible disturbance" in production to interfere with winter coal needs both in the United States and abroad.

Lewis said there are now 46 million tons of coal in storage, or a 28-day supply.

Believes Bormann, Nazi Leader, Is Alive, In Hiding

FRANKFURT, March 13.—(INS)—An American intelligence office revealed today that the army believes Martin Bormann, deputy leader of the Nazi party, still is alive and probably in hiding in the mountains of Bavaria.

The G-2 spokesman told International News Service:

"Despite numerous conflicting stories of his death from many witnesses, we still think Bormann is living and we are still searching for him."

Declaring that Bormann was a particularly wanted character, the army spokesman said that he is especially attractive because he is the "only man left of the former Nazi big-wigs who could be made into a 'Robin Hood' by potential resistance groups."

The spokesman said the great danger is that younger German leaders might make a leader out of Bormann, picturing him as a shadowy character whom they would not even be called upon to produce to attract followers.

state department made public its March 6 dispatch which contained the original demand for removal of the Red army forces.

State Department Announcement

U. S. interest in the situation was pointed up Tuesday night by a state department announcement which said:

"The department of state has received reports to the effect that during the last week additional Soviet armed forces and heavy military equipment have been moving southward from the direction of the Soviet frontier through Tabriz toward Teheran and toward the western border of Iran."

"This government has inquired of the Soviet government whether such movements have taken place and if so the reasons therefor."

Heavy contingents of tanks and cavalry were reported to be moving southward from the Russian occupied zone. While there was no immediate explanation or indication it was pointed out that they could move toward Turkey, the Mosul oil fields in Iraq or Teheran and the center of Iran.

In any event, observers believed that this new development in the field of rapidly moving international affairs will force the entire question into the United Nations organizations meeting in New York which was postponed from March 21 to March 25.

the crisis before March 25, the date now set for beginning of UNO security council deliberations at Hunter College in New York.

Advices to the Daily Express said a "dramatic clarification" of the situation considered a threat to the very structure of the UNO probably would follow a Washington request that Moscow explain reported moves of Russian tanks and cavalry in Iran.

It was pointed out that with automatic dissolution of the Iranian parliament yesterday, decisions on future policy were up to Sultaneh alone. Only the Shah of Iran can now remove him from office.

Russia To Withdraw

The premier was reported by the Daily Telegraph to have told the Tehran parliament Russia had promised to withdraw from Iran in the near future and that "it is the British, not the Iranians, that the Russians are fighting in your country."

Sultaneh was quoted also as declaring his policy was one of impartial government "with malice toward none of our great neighbors." He added that "we should not be a tool in other peoples' fights."

The Daily Express pointed out that Sultaneh, who made no attempt to halt dissolution of the parliament, was now free to accept Soviet demands for oil and other concessions or to continue negotiations with Moscow.

The newspaper said it "would be dangerous to prophesy" the premier's move.

(The Ankara radio quoted Tehran reports that Soviet Foreign Commissar V. M. Molotov was expected in the Iranian capital soon to continue negotiations broken off at Moscow.)

man for Kiwanis. There was a good representation of the membership of the four clubs in attendance.

The speaker recalled the fight in the anthracite coal fields over wages, leading up to the winter long strike in 1920, which resulted in consumers of anthracite finding out that other fuels were as good and more economical, with a consequent falling off in demand for anthracite coal. The result has been less employment in the anthracite field, and while anthracite miners make high wages, they have less employment, and the mines have shut because the market is gone, he asserted.

Referring to the strike for higher wages in the automobile field, he stated that the question seems to hinge over whether General Motors can afford a thirty per cent wage increase.

Mr. Lorenz stated that experts know what the cost of materials and wages which go into the manufacture of a certain car amount to. But from there on, it is a problem of cost accounting. The manufacturer has other items which enter into the sale price of an automobile, such as taxes on his property, etc. If he could only market one car, the price for which he would have to sell it would be prohibitive. However, if he could sell a half-million cars, the cost of manufacturing would be reduced.

Another Problem

Another problem which must be faced, is the demand for his product. That is where the public comes in. The finished product must meet the demands of the buyer and the price must be within his ability to pay. That is the crux of the whole thing, he asserted, and the one thing which both labor and manufacturer must become cognizant of.

The one thing which built the automobile industry, he stated, was the efforts of the automobile manufacturers competing and producing a better product at a lower price, enabling the average person in this country to afford an automobile.

Turning to the idea of Communism which in an ideal communist state means equal sharing of wealth and opportunity, the speaker said America has come nearer to that ideal than any place on the face of the earth.

The reason we are faced with inflation right now is because there is a shortage of goods. The establishment of ceiling prices, the speaker felt, would not correct this situation. If these ceilings were lifted, it might be painful for a time, but in his opinion, the situation would right itself in time, because people would not buy commodities unless the price was within their ability to pay, and the law of supply and demand would result in lowering of prices. We can buy or not, just as we please.

Mr. Lorenz stated that in his opinion it is this theory which must be taught to the young people. It cannot be put across to older ones, who are blinded to everything but the thought that higher wages brings more prosperity.

enabling agencies in providing additional facilities locally for furthering the program.

Plans for the baseball season, which is fast drawing near were discussed, and a budget was adopted for financing a Senior League team and the Junior Baseball league which the post has backed over a period of years.

Plans were also furthered for the National Commander's banquet here on April 13, when Legionnaires from the 26th district will be the guests of the Lawrence County committee at the annual gathering. Only 160 tickets are available for the banquet locally, and there was a rush for the tickets at last night's meeting.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Interest Tuesday, with many citizens, who had lots of time on their hands, watching the bricklayers and other tradesmen as they worked about the new structure.

For a number of months, Pa Newc has been keeping his eye peeled for the discharge button of local G. I. Joe. The first one seen being worn by Pa Newc was that of Mary Eakin, teacher at the Shenango High school, who has just received her honorable discharge from the WAC.

Many residents and visitors at the Court House think that the stop at the corner of Court and East Washington street is still used by the buses traveling west. Many times a day, would-be bus passengers, are left standing at the corner with the bus passing them by. The stop was not restored, with the restoration of the old stops some time ago.

Lots of folks, no doubt, have wondered what gives exposed telephone and telegraph wires the bright green color they are wearing right now. District Plant Manager Kenneth H. Beck of the Bell Telephone company states it is the formation of verdigris or a copper chemical compound due to the action of the elements on the copper in the wiring. A great deal of this will undoubtedly wear off when the spring rains set in, but atmospheric conditions for the past few months have been more conducive to the formation of this coating than at any other times, he states.

Mrs. George L. Gibson, R. D. No. 1, Edenburg, reported to Pa Newc this morning that upon collecting eggs recently she discovered an unusually large one, laid by an eight-month-old pullet, a Hampshire Red. The egg measured seven and five-eighths inches by nine and one-quarter inches, and weighed six ounces, compared to the usual egg which weighs approximately 2 ounces.

Solsens, France is one of the oldest cities in that country. It was known in Roman times and is famous for a victory nearby by Clovis 486 A. D. over the Roman general, Syagrius, which put an end to Roman domination in Gaul.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Mary Estella Offutt Brown Elder, whom he married, September 16, 1896, and who survives, and a daughter, Mrs. William M. Richardson, and a brother, Alvin M. Elder of West Liberty.

Joan Crawford Seeking Divorce

HOLLYWOOD, March 13.—(INS)—Academy Award winner Joan Crawford today sought a divorce court discard for her third actor husband.

The star has filed a suit to end her marriage to Philip Terry, whom she wed in July, 1942. Her complaint accuses him of having treated her in a "cruel and inhuman manner" throughout their married life. The actress, previously married to and divorced from Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., and Franchot Tone, is making no alimony claims against Terry, but is asking the right to retain her separate property.

House Kills Bill To Provide Pensions

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—The House, which summarily refused to consider a bill granting congressmen federal retirement pensions, will have an opportunity to change its mind sometime during the present session of Congress.

The House, by a vote of 217 to 116, killed a bill which would have covered senators, representatives, cabinet members and heads of government agencies, under the Civil Service Retirement Act.

But Rep. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.), announced that he would incorporate the pension provision in his omnibus bill to streamline Congress and give Capitol Hill legislators a $5,000-a-year raise.

Insurance Sales Total $500,000,000 For Year In State

Increase Of $25,000,000 Is Noted In State Over 1944 Purchasing Figures

HARRISBURG, March 13.—(INS)—Insurance Commissioner Gregg L. Neel reported today that Pennsylvanians invested $459,674,712.80 in life insurance during 1945.

Neel said investments last year were $25,943,419.04 more than the total amount of insurance purchased in 1944.

"In terms of insurance in force the increase was close to one half billion dollars," Neel explained.

He pointed out that insurance in force last year totaled $14,138,309,559.39 compared with $13,673,445,650.51 two years ago, Neel stated.

Insists for Thrift
"This proves that Pennsylvanians have maintained their inherited instincts for thrift."

"It also shows that despite all the efforts of recent years to have people look more and more to the federal government for security, the people of Pennsylvania retain a consciousness of personal responsibility for providing for the loss of income which follows the death of the family breadwinner, and of providing funds necessary for the maintenance of personal self-respect during old age."

"This is also a reminder that the battle against inflation must be won so that these dollars, which have been saved, will be ample for their purpose during the years when they are to be spent," Neel added.

"Inflation is most disastrous to those who live on fixed incomes under annuities, pension plans or installment payments of life insurance policies," he warned.

Neel pointed out that 108 life insurance companies including 92 "out of state" concerns were authorized to operate in the commonwealth last year.

Mystery Blast In Bradford Explained

BRADFORD, Pa., March 13.—(INS)—The jittery residents of this oil community relaxed today upon learning the mysterious mid-air explosion that rocked a 10-mile area wasn't a Jap parachute bomb.

A searching party solved the mystery when they found a sand pumping hole in which there was evidence that a great amount of dynamite had been exploded.

Police said they found in the hole at Gates Hollow, just southwest of the city, freshly turned earth, a dynamite fuse and scraps of dynamite wrappings.

Police said apparently some oil drillers had set off the blast by tossing discarded dynamite into the sand-pumping hole.

No casualties or damage was reported as a result of the blast which shook windows in suburban areas. Over a year ago a parachute balloon bomb was found in Bradford, but turned out to be a dud.

Seek To Protect Growers Of Wool

WASHINGTON, March 13.—President Truman proposed to Congress on Tuesday passage of legislation to protect the nation's wool growers.

Mr. Truman sent a letter to Sen. O'Mahoney (D) Wyo., outlining a wool program as the basis of legislation.

The President said his program is designed to "protect the incomes of wool growers on a level comparable with that afforded producers of other agricultural products."

Mr. Truman said: "From a careful view of the entire problem, it appears that it will be more desirable from a national point of view and more dependable for growers to have the government absorb losses on sales of domestic wools rather than to raise additional trade barriers against imports."

Will Burn Note

Indebtedness To Be Eliminated At Ceremonies At Church On Sunday Morning

St. Paul's Lutheran church, Jefferson and Grant streets, has had for several years an indebtedness, amounting to $1,000, resting upon it. Plans have been made to burn the note for that amount at the Sunday morning March 17 service at 10:45 o'clock, when the pastor, the Rev. O. J. Warnath, S. T. M., will lead the congregation in a service of prayer, praise and thanksgiving.

The pastor and members of the church resolved at their last meeting to liquidate the note. Committees were appointed to interview the membership and raise the money. The $1,000 was not only paid in about two weeks' time, but the various committees had gone over the top in their collections.

Floyd Cotton, chairman of the finance committee, did a praiseworthy task in encouraging the committees to begin their job of raising the money at once. He told them it could be done, and the committee lost no time in accomplishing their task. He appointed the following to help: Mr. and Mrs. John Bender, Mrs. Tillie Lewis, Robert Morgan, Mrs. Joshua Morgan, Mrs. William Davies, Henry Snyder, Alfred Fichtel, Herman Taylor, Fred Allen, Mr. and Mrs. K. Hempel, William Sim, Mrs. A. Chamberlain and Mrs. George Solomon.

Church councilmen and various members of the committees, collecting the funds will assemble Sunday at the foot of the church of the church, where the note will be burned.

SECRET 'SPY' ARMY Operated In Italy During War Years

Secret Force Of 300 Operated In Italy Prior To Allied Invasion,
It Is Revealed

DETROIT, March 13.—(INS)—
Thrilling experiences of Italian-Americans who were members of a secret "spy" army operating in Italy prior to the Allied invasion were revealed in Detroit today by
Maj. Biagio M. Corvo of Middleton, Conn.

Maj. Corvo, on terminal leave, is in Detroit for a reunion with 30
Italian-American attorneys, business men and factory workers who volunteered early in 1942 in the secret force of 300 men he organized for dangerous missions and espionage in Germany-occupied Italy.

Identity of the patriots will not be revealed for the present, Maj.

Corvo said, but all soon will be decorated by the United States for unusual heroism.

Several of them allowed themselves to be captured in order to give the Nazis false information on Allied plans for invading Italy.

After attending a secret espionage instruction school in America, the force went to the European theater for infiltration into Italy. Their various dialects and knowledge of their native land guided army officials in their various assignments.

Maj. Corvo said none of the force of 300 were killed despite their activities in leading guerrilla fighters, infiltration into German military lines and various other army intelligence tasks.

The new mode in feminine fashions emphasizes the rounded figure.

Urges Vets Take Up Farming And Grow More Food

Government Ready To Help Veterans Obtain Good Farms At Fair Prices

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—(INS)—National Farm Security Administrator Dillard B. Lasseter urged veterans today to take up farming in line with a "grow-more-food" program.

He declared the federal agency is doing its "level best to accommodate all veterans who want to farm and who can buy good farms at their fair agricultural value".

In Philadelphia enroute to a regional meeting in New York, he explained that farm security loans provide up to $12,000 for farmer-veterans on a three per cent 40-year basis. There are also operating loans of $25,000 available at five per cent for five years.

Need More Funds
Lasseter pointed out, however, that while there were "adequate" funds to lend money for purchasing farms, the crop-operating funds were exhausted. He said he hoped congress would provide more funds soon.

"If we had the added funds for crop operating loans," he stated, "we could put 20,000 to 25,000 more farms in operation by veterans."

He added, however, that there was ample opportunity for veterans to buy farms, pointing out that there are 800,000 farm operator vacancies on existing farms.

Emphasizing there was room for young blood in farming, Lasseter said 14 per cent of the nation's farmers are over 65 years of age.

He added that American and world food supplies can be increased "considerably" by resettling veterans, who are experienced farmers, on good farms that are now wholly or partly idle.

Authorize Use Of 98 Vessels In Bomb Tests

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—The house Tuesday authorized the use of 98 American, German and Japanese naval vessels for atomic bomb tests, but provided for increased civilian participation.

The house passed and sent to the senate by a vote of 314 to 25 a measure sponsored by Rep. Vinson (D) Ga., naval affairs committee chairman, permitting the use of these ships for the joint army-navy tests in May and July at Bikini Atoll, Marshall Islands.

A formal roll call on the measure was taken after the enabling resolution ran into unexpected opposition yesterday and the house was forced to adjourn last night without completing action.

New Whiskey Ration To Start On March 18

HARRISBURG, March 13.—The next whiskey ration to individuals will be one-fifth of a gallon of the regular supply of State Store whiskey for a two-week period—the thirty-fifth—from Monday, March 18 through March 30. War Ration Book No. 3 will be used.

Retail licensees will continue to be allotted 90 per cent of their former normal basic purchases. Rationing restrictions do not apply to brandy, rum, gin or wines or any State Store merchandise other than whiskey.

Quantities of unrationed whiskey are available as they are received.

Dual Benefits Can Be Obtained By Aged Workers

Both Old-Age And Survivors Insurance May Be Collected, Security Office Says

Workers, 65 years of age or older, out of work are eligible for both old-age and survivors insurance and unemployment compensation, may collect benefits from both these insurances at the same time in the state of Pennsylvania.

Edward J. Sinder, manager of the New Castle office of the Social Security Board pointed out today that many older workers are failing to file claims for old-age insurance benefits because of the belief that they are not eligible for them while drawing unemployment compensation.

Should See Board

Mr. Sinder said that every worker, aged 65 or over who has a social security card and is out of work should check with the social security board field office to see if he is eligible for monthly old-age insurance benefits. The filing of a claim does not prevent the worker from returning to work. He merely gives up the amount of his old-age insurance benefit for any month in which he earns over $14.99 in work covered by the Social Security Act.

Before old-age insurance benefits are payable, a claim must be filed. Mr. Sinder added. It is, therefore, important that every qualified worker, 65 or over, who expects to be out of work for a month or more, should get in touch with the board and file his claim before the end of the month.

The New Castle office of the Social Security Board is located at 306 Neshannock avenue in the Johnson building.

Engineers Society Will Visit United Engineering Plant

Inspection Trip Is On Program For Monthly Meeting Of Mahoning-Shenango Valley Group

Through the courtesy of the management of United Engineering & Foundry Co., members of the Mahoning-Shenango Valley Engineers society will enjoy a visit through the plant in connection with their monthly meeting, Monday evening, March 18.

The meeting will be preceded by dinner at The Castleton at 7 o'clock. Built during the war, the local plant turned out heavy machinery, huge guns and shells, but now the shell making machinery has been removed, and the plant is devoting its efforts to peace time pursuits. However, the massive equipment used to manufacture heavy machinery is still there and in operation, helping to rebuild America's peacetime industry.

It is necessary to prepare passes for all visitors to the plant, and in order to avoid delay, reservations should be made for the visit by 11 a. m. Monday, March 18. President Paul Dingley announces.

Dental Examinations Of School Children Have Been Completed

Dental examinations of students in the first, third, fifth, seventh, ninth, and eleventh grades of the public schools in New Castle, have been completed, and will begin in the parochial schools on Monday, Superintendent of Schools Frank L. Burton said today.

Medical examinations of students in the same grades have been completed in all but Ben Franklin, Lincoln-Garfield, and Senior high schools. These schools, all large ones, will take the rest of the term, however, Dr. Burton pointed out. Each doctor can take care of no more than 12 pupils in a half-day, whereas the dental exams could be handled much faster.

Dr. William Womer and Dr. T. M. Shaffer have been handling the dental examinations, with the assistance of Dr. J. E. Ginsberg, while Dr. Benjamin Levin and Dr. Thomas McPate, Jr., have been making the dental examinations.

Toward the end of the war, the Nazis were perfecting an ice bomb which would freeze anything within a radius of five miles. It seems that before they could use it the Allies put the chill on THEM.

Have you ever seen a Brave Man Cry?

YOUR Red Cross MUST CARRY ON . . .

JACK GERSON—Your Jeweler

IT HAPPENED somewhere in the Pacific. The boys of the 5th Air Force were "occupying" a God-forsaken jungle island which had been taken from the Japs.

The heat, and the bugs, and the dirt were unbearable. The loneliness was beyond belief—beyond anything we who haven't been there can imagine.

Then—on a sweltering airstrip one morning a plane came down out of the sky. And out of it stepped two Red Cross girls, American girls.

"Hi there, Soldiers! Their voices were like magic.

American girls, like the sisters and sweethearts they hadn't seen for so many long months—greeting them as they'd been greeted so often in the old, happy days at home. Yes, tears filled the eyes of more than one of those fighting men. Brave men they were, trying unashamed!

Many thousands of our men are still overseas. They're lonely. They're homesick. They need your Red Cross now. And Red Cross men and women are at their side. But only you can keep them there. Through your contributions you make it possible for the Red Cross to see them through. Give today!

Red Cross Seeks Volunteer Knitters To Make Cast Socks

One hundred pounds of navy blue sock yarn is now available at the Lawrence county Red Cross chapter house for those who will volunteer to knit walking cast toe socks, now greatly needed for the navy hospitals, stated Miss Elizabeth Breslin, chapter secretary, today.

The yarn is enough for approximately 800 of the cast socks, which the navy requests "as soon as possible".

STUDENTS GO SENTIMENTAL IN SONG FEST

NEW WILMINGTON, March 13.—Singing of sentimental college songs featured Tuesday's assembly program at Westmaster college under the direction of Charles I. Sager of the music department.

SEED SUPPLY GOOD

COLUMBUS, O.—(INS)—The supply of vegetable seeds is expected to be large enough to meet demands of gardeners in 1946. The present food situation indicates a good garden will be a distinct help in feeding the family, experts say.

World Government Deemed Necessary For Atomic Control

Technical Devices Cannot Be Investigated Without Politics Say Scientists

WINTER PARK, Fla., March 13.—(INS)—Scientists agreed today that atomic energy cannot be controlled through technical devices without a political set-up and warned of the necessity for establishment of a world government.

Some of the men who aided in development of the atomic bomb are in Winter Park to attend a conference at Rollins College on world organization and control of the atom.

Dr. Harold C. Urey, University of Chicago scientist, said talk of constant inspection is impractical as it "would require three million persons on constant guard to properly inspect materials used in atomic bombs of their manufacture."

Cannot Disperse Cities
Dr. S. K. Allison, also of the University of Chicago, pointed out that dispersing cities and manufacturing centers against probable use of the bomb was both "impractical and impossible. The cost of scattering cities would be as great as the price of another world war."

Dr. I. I. Rabi, of Columbia, asked if atoms of a more common type might be developed in the near future, replied:

"The one we have now is a pretty good bomb and enough to raise anyone's hair, but certainly a more powerful bomb will be manufactured in the future. Also a cheaper one."

The conference is attended only by a group of scientists, authors and political leaders who have expressed favor of controlling atomic energy through a world government. They plan to take some stand on just how far that control should extend.

Retail Dry Goods Association Hits Back At Bowles

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—The National Retail Dry Goods Association struck back today at Economic Stabilizer, Chester Bowles' charge that it is "irresponsible and greedy."

The association accused the office of price administration of increasing the cost of living through "camouflaged inflation" and set up in the old house office building a documented display of consumer goods to prove its point.

The display paired more than 100 merchandise items to contrast inequities in OPA price ceilings. Bowles and Price Administrator Paul Porter as well as members of Congress were invited to inspect the exhibits.

Low ceiling prices set by OPA on first quality merchandise made by old-line firms were paired against higher prices established on what the association said was poor quality merchandise made by new firms.

The displays included women's slips, dresses, men's undershirts, women's pajamas, wool shirts, women's underwear, men's shorts, electric heaters, and toasters.

A slip with a narrow band of lace at the top was shown to be priced by the OPA at $15.75 a dozen, in contrast to a slip with a wider lace top, made by another manufacturer, priced at $42 a dozen.

Solicit Nations For Vast Tonnage Of Cereal Grains

Hoover Urges Western Hemisphere To Aid In Feeding Starving Of The World

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—Herbert Hoover, honorary chairman of the famine emergency committee, Tuesday called upon the nations in the western hemisphere to help bridge the gap of five million tons in cereals needed to feed starving peoples.

The former president told a news conference that all countries in the western hemisphere with the exception of Australia and Siam could furnish surplus cereals to the world pool.

Hoover said: "Never has there been such a responsibility on Latin American countries to aid as there is now. If we get full cooperation from them we might bridge the five million ton gap in cereals for this quarter."

Hoover pointed out that South American countries need coal, oil and other commodities which the United States is now able to supply. Also, he said, South American countries are known to have surplus of cereal grains needed for relief feeding in Europe and Asia.

In view of these facts, Hoover said, "it seems as though some agreement could be set up which would prove helpful on all sides."

Need 21 Million Tons
Hoover said that bread grains now in sacks available for export in the world totaled between eleven and twelve million tons while the need is 21 million tons "if we are to maintain present bread rations in all famine countries."

The problem lies in how to make up the shortage, Hoover said, because rations in famine areas cannot be reduced by 40 per cent without "complete disaster." He listed Brazil as a country which could furnish rice and said that Argentina has a surplus of cereal grains which, however, might be reduced by a short harvest this year.

Hoover issued an appeal to non-famine countries who receive food from the United States and Canada to reduce their imports as much as possible.

He declared that "it is not possible to shut them off completely, but they could help."

Hoover said he referred to such countries as Brazil and Cuba.

Not In Opposition

The former political discussions at his news conference, asserting that "my job is to do something constructive—I am not here in opposition to anybody."

The man who handled food relief following the first world war said he is leaving Sunday on his European flight to look over the famine situation in Europe.

Accompanying him will be Hugh Gibson, former ambassador to Belgium, and others who served with Hoover in Europe in 1918. He is also taking John Brown Mason whom he described as a specialist on German questions.

Hoover refused to be drawn into a discussion as to whether Germany and Japan should be placed on the bottom of the relief feeding list.

Johann von Schiller, famous German poet and dramatist, was born at Marbach, Württemberg, Germany, in 1759. His father was a military surgeon and captain and his mother an innkeeper's daughter.

SUGAR BLACK MARKET PROBE IS NEARING END

PITTSBURGH, March 13.—(INS)—Ten witnesses were scheduled to appear before a federal grand jury investigating Pittsburgh's sugar black market in what expected to be the final day of the probe.

U. S. attorneys will review the testimony and prepare indictments after the jury recesses tonight.

The arrest and indictment of two men, who were found with 21,885 sugar ration stamps worth $12,000 at black market prices, highlighted yesterday's activities.

Morris Cohen, 42, of Pittsburgh, and Sam Snider, 35, Erie, were indicted on charges of receiving, possessing and concealing stolen government property and with conspiracy to receive stolen government property. The stamps, stolen from Batavia, N. Y., Philadelphia and Long Island, would equal 109,425 pounds of sugar, according to U. S. attorneys.

Predicting Death Held Impractical Is Court Ruling

Neither Actuarial Tables Nor Opinions Can Determine When Person Will Die

PHILADELPHIA, March 13.—(INS)—Death according to the Pennsylvania Superior Court today, is unpredictable and "neither actuarial tables nor professional opinion can tell when a person will die."

The ruling was issued by the court in dismissing the appeal of the Prudential Insurance Company of America from the award of a $1,202 judgment to Joseph R. Dickerson, of Philadelphia, in the death of his son, Joseph, 18, in April 1940.

Two policies of $1,000 were paid without question by the insurance company, which refused, however, to make double indemnity payment of an additional $1,000 on the ground that the boy would have died within a few days from his illness.

The Dickerson boy had been hospitalized for 18 months with multiple tumors of the brain, was blind, deaf and paralyzed, but could get around in a wheelchair.

While wheeling himself about the hall of the Philadelphia General hospital in 1940, the youth took a wrong turn and fell down a flight of stairs when he believed he was turning into the sun room.

Said the court: "He (Joseph) did not realize the stairs were perilously close to his path."

"He anticipated no danger, having made the journey many times without difficulty. His illness did not deprive him of the protection of these policies."

Confession In Reading Case Is Repudiated

READING, Pa., March 13.—(INS)—The trial of John Pappas, 42-year-old steel worker, on charges that he killed his wife Helen, 40, went into its third day with the repudiation of an alleged confession by the defendant.

Pappas took the witness stand in his own behalf to deny all charges of killing his wife, declaring she had committed suicide in a fit of despondency over an incurable disease.

Pappas was indicted in the alleged "mercy" killing of his wife, who was found last October with a bullet wound at the base of the skull.

Red Cross May Send Worker For Training

Discussing chapter responsibility toward the veteran in relation to special and non-recurring needs, the Home Service committee of the local Red Cross chapter met Tuesday morning and voted to suggest to the chapter board that a representative be sent for basic training given by Area headquarters in cities throughout the area.

Miss Elizabeth Reis, chairman of the committee, pointed out that although the Red Cross has no mandatory service toward the discharged veteran who has not yet begun to work and who finds himself in financial difficulties, it may voluntarily help him. The organization owes mandatory service to servicemen and to veterans who are awaiting the adjudication of claims.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—Secretary of Agriculture Anderson warned today that "serious crop losses" are in immediate prospect in the United States unless swift action is taken to provide farmers with more machinery. Anderson asserted further that much food urgently required at home and for export to the starving of Europe and Asia will not be available if the government fails to step up farm machinery production promptly.

Barbers Banquet Tuesday Evening Enjoyable Event

Announce Mass Meeting For All
Barbers Next Monday Night
At 8 O'Clock

Stressing the importance of unionized barbering, members of the Journeymen Barbers International Union of America, Local 278, gathered in The Castleton hotel last night for their annual banquet and get-together and had a full turnout.

The Journeymen Barbers Union is one of the oldest local in town and was chartered back in 1901. It was revealed by President Albert Candioti during the course of his talk. Candioti revealed also that the idea of unionized barbering began in Buffalo, N. Y., on December 5, 1887, and has grown into a strong union through the years, with better working conditions for the barbering business.

Mass Meeting Monday
It was announced during the course of the evening that a mass meeting for all barbers in New Castle will be held at the Trades and Labor Assembly Hall on East Washington street at 8 o'clock next Monday evening.

It was announced that the members of the Journeymen Barbers union will again observe Wednesday afternoon closing this year starting on Wednesday, April 3, at 12 o'clock noon and continuing for an indefinite period of time.

Frank Fazzone, secretary and treasurer of the Journeymen Barbers gave a fine talk in which he urged the members to try and expand their organization into a larger body. He particularly invited the returned servicemen who are barbers to rejoin the organization. Among the returned servicemen now back at barbering present as special guest were Gomer Lewis, and Sam Martello.

Other special guests of the Journeymen also present and making short talks were Jack McInyre, Tony Accia, Albert Anastasia, formerly of Chicago and now a New Castle barber shop owner, and Charles P. "Bugs" Walther of The News.

Short talks were also heard from Griff Lewis, Sammy Davies, Bill Covert, Jesse Miller, Jack Davis and Angelo Filigenzi. President Candioti acted as toastmaster of the occasion. Following the speaking program the men enjoyed a social time.

The committee deserving credit for the success of the evening consisted of Albert Candioti, Frank Fazzone, Jack Davis, Phil Sunseri, and Charles H. Michaels.

Seeks To Salvage Civilian Control Of Atomic Energy

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—Sen. McMahon (D) Conn. today fought a one-man battle to salvage as much as he can of the "civilian control" aims of his atomic energy bill.

The senate atomic committee headed by McMahon prepared to take up today questions of security and freedom of research. These are expected to be less controversial than the military review board issue on which his colleagues voted down McMahon, six to one in the first test of strength.

The committee hopes to agree on all provisions of the bill this week. McMahon said he would try to give a military board authority to review all atomic commission actions, and appeal them to the president if military men think national defense is endangered.

But indications were that McMahon will be unsuccessful. A determination of other members to give the military a stronger hand in atomic affairs than McMahon's bill provided has been apparent ever since the committee began framing its bill.

The chairman asserted that the vote by the majority would permit the military board to tie up indefinitely proposed actions of the commission if it chose to do so. No time limit is placed on appeals to the president.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R) Iowa, disputed McMahon's views that the board of review puts atomic policy too far into army hands.

As early as 1941, 94 out of every 100 British men aged 14 to 64 had been mobilized.

Labels OPA Recent Survey Real Bust

PITTSBURGH, March 13.—(INS)—President Homer R. Greene, of the Pittsburgh real estate board, today labelled a recent OPA survey on the income of landlords as "one of the worst abuses ever to come out of the agency."

Greene said the survey covered 61,000 housing units, including only a few hundred single family dwellings—the largest section of rental housing market under OPA controls. The board survey showed the housing shortage was caused by (1) a decrease in building in the last decade, plus a sharp increase in population; (2) migration from farms to cities; (3) a large increase in the marriage rate and (4) failure to replace or repair old houses.

Greene made his charges on the heels of a federal court injunction restraining an apartment owner from evicting tenants.

Candidate Plans To Drop 150 Pairs Of Nylon Stockings

CLEVELAND, March 13.—(INS)—A Cleveland police riot squad was expected to be on hand Sunday when Albert E. Payne, of Springfield, a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of Ohio, drops 150 pairs of nylon hose from a plane.

A Baseball diamond in Edgewater park has been selected by Payne as the target for the nylons. The stockings will be wrapped in green paper and tied with green ribbon in honor of St. Patrick's Day.

The Springfield industrialist admitted that the nylons are just another publicity stunt to further his political ambitions. The police suggested that a couple of thousand persons fighting for 150 pairs of stockings could easily react to his detriment.

Reduce Tax Levy In Mercer County

MERCER, March 13.—The Mercer County Commissioners met Monday afternoon and adopted the tax levy for the current year, when they reduced the county levy one mill fixing the rate at 7½ mills for county purposes.

The levy for the institutional district, which includes the County Home and hospital, was continued at 1½ mills, making the total for the year nine mills. Last year tax for county purpose had been placed at 8½ mills, making the total for the year 10 mills. After a careful study of the budget set up by the controller, the commissioners decided that by strict economy it would be possible to make the reduction.

Spaatz To Keep
Army Air Forces
Tuned For Battle

Air Chief Says Best Defense Against Aggression Is Highly Altered Force

EIGHT COMMANDS
TO NUMBER 400,000

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—Gen. Carl Spaatz announced plans Tuesday for keeping the peacetime army air force "in a high and constant state of readiness" for war.

Spaatz, new AAF chief, declared at a news conference that "the best insurance against unannounced aerial attacks" is a alert air force holding co-equal status with ground and naval services.

Within the geared-for-action air force will be three major combat commands and five supporting commands operating under AAF headquarters.

Proposed inauguration of army plans for a 400,000-strong peacetime air force comprising 70 combat groups awaits completion of studies on overall manpower needs of the armed forces.

Bases Necessary
Spaatz asserted that "the consequent disposition of the air forces necessitates bases on which, as circumstances demand, offensive force can be poised well within reach of the war potential of any possible enemy."

Identification of these bases was said to await completion of negotiations by the state department.

Spaatz told newsmen that the AAF's peacetime mission was to support American foreign policy and help maintain the peace. He declared:

"The AAF can accomplish its mission only if it maintains an air force in-being of adequate size and proper composition, strategically deployed, and in a high and constant state of readiness."

Spaatz announced that the following three major combat commands will be in charge of Gen. George C. Kenney, Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer and Maj. Gen. E. E. Quesada in that order.

Strategic Air Command, headquarters, Andrews Field, D. C.; air defense command, headquarters, Mitchell Field, N. Y.; and tactical air command, headquarters, Langley Field, Va.

Supporting Commands
The five supporting commands and their chiefs follow:

Air material, Lt. Gen. Nathan F. Twining; training, Lt. Gen. John K. Cannon; air transport, Lt. Gen. Harold L. George; air university, Maj. Gen. Muir S. Fairchild; and air moving ground, Maj. Gen. Donald Wilson.

Spaatz pointed out the air reserve and the air national guard will form an integral part of the defense structure of the United States.

Services of civilians will continue to be required throughout the post-war period to free military personnel for exclusively military duties, he said.

Spaatz said further:

The deceased, a member of the Seventh Day Adventist, was a former resident of New Castle having moved in 1927 from this city to Youngstown.

Survivors include one son, Stanley M. Hogue, Youngstown; one daughter, Miss Esther Hogue, at home; a grandson, James V. Hogue, Pittsburgh, and a great-granddaughter, Rebecca Jean Hogue, Pittsburgh.

PENNSYLVANIA POWER CO.
BRINGS YOU THIS
Report of 1945 Activities

To Our Customers:

The end of the war produced the inevitable reaction on industrial activity in the territory served by the Company. The recession in industrial sales in the latter months of the year was approximately 35%. The area served by Pennsylvania Power Company is entering the post-war period with a net gain in number of industries. In most cases their peacetime products are the same, or closely akin, to the products they made for war. Hence extensive reconversion will be unnecessary. Labor and material shortages and other factors will reduce for a certain period of time the operating schedules of many plants, but a return to higher levels of operations is anticipated in most of the industries as soon as this readjustment is completed.

USE OF ELECTRIC SERVICE
Residential sales, which include sales to farm customers, increased 8% over 1944. Residential customers used an average of 1,441 kilowatt-hours in 1945, compared with 1,173 for the State of Pennsylvania and 1,225 for the nation.

Getting Brush Off
On Surplus Goods
PITTSBURGH, March 13.—(INS)—James W. Copley today charged that veterans are still getting the "brush off" on purchases of surplus war goods and claimed the government deliberately organized a group of workers to "chase the Veterans."

PRICE OF ELECTRIC SERVICE
The average price paid for electricity by residential customers of Pennsylvania Power Company in 1945 averaged 3.11c. This was the lowest in the Company's history and continued a decline that has been in progress for many years. This price has also been consistently below that of the State of Pennsylvania and the nation.

EMPLOYEES INCREASE
Following a gradual reduction in number of employees throughout the war the number increased from a low of 364 to 455 on December 31, 1945. The present upward trend in number of employees should continue with greater activity in sales, construction and customer service. To date 47 employees who entered the services have been released and, of these, 35 have returned to employment with the Company. In addition 31 veterans not formerly with the Company have been employed.

PROPERTY ADDITIONS
Additions and improvements to the Company's property amounted to $411,361 in 1945. Orders have been placed for a second turbo-generator and boiler unit for the New Castle steam-electric generating plant at West Pittsburg. Scheduled to be finished in late 1946, the new unit is expected to increase the capacity of the power plant to 88,000 kilowatts. The project which also includes construction of new transmission facilities and the reinforcing of certain existing transmission facilities, is estimated to cost $3,200,000, for which funds have been provided.

Premier Sultaneh Admits Mission To Moscow Failure

No Agreement Reached In Conference With Officials In Moscow Is Report

TEHRAN, March 13.—(INS)—
Premier Ahmad Ghavam Sultaneh admitted today that his mission to Moscow ended in failure.

In his first news conference since returning from discussions with Soviet officials in Moscow, as recommended by the UNO security council, Sultaneh declared:

"Unfortunately, I reached no agreement. Negotiations with the highest ranking Soviet leaders remained without result.

"I did not achieve the object I had in view."

He said two subjects mainly concerned the negotiators. The Iran and Soviet delegations discussed the evacuation of the Red army, which Moscow has decided to retain in parts of Iran beyond the term provided in a 1942 agreement.

Sultaneh said they also considered the case of Azerbaijan where an "autonomous" regime was established reputedly with Russian support.

Sultaneh said he had no confirmation of reports that Soviet cavalry and mechanized forces were on the move westward in the northern reaches of Iran. He also declined to state whether he intends putting the Iranian case once again before the UNO.

Paratrooper On Trial In Death Of Jersey Girl

CAMDEN, N. J., March 13.—(INS)—
The bloody clothes which were torn from the bruised body of Margaret Rita McDade, 24, following a V-J Day celebration, were placed in evidence today at the trial of a 25-year-old former paratrooper who is charged with slaying the waitress.

The defendant, Harold Auld, stared at Margaret Rist, a waitress friend of the murder-victim as she took the stand and told Prosecutor Gene R. Mariano that "Margaret wore that dress V-J night."

She also identified other articles found near a Haddon Heights sewage disposal tank, where the body of Miss McDade was discovered, as belonging to the victim.

Court-appointed defense counsel
Rocco Palese, in outlining the defense, admitted that Auld left the girl in the cistern. He indicated, however, the defense will be that from the moment Miss McDade fell during a struggle, the veteran "lost his mind and was mentally incompetent and insane."

The state is asking the death penalty for Auld.

Fesler Is Chosen Pitt Grid Coach

Athletic Director Jimmy Hagan In Surprise Move Picks Former Ohio State Star

Fesler Has Been Assistant Coach At Princeton, Two Assistants Named At Pitt

PITTSBURGH, March 13.—(INS)—Upon the broad shoulders of Wesley T. Fesler, former Ohio State All-American, falls one of the most difficult football coaching positions in the nation's collegiate domain.

The 38-year-old native of Youngstown, O., was a "dark horse" winner in the Pitt coaching race in which some 90-odd candidates were entered.

He replaces Clark D. Shaughnessy, famed T-formation advocate, who resigned at Pitt after claiming the "downside alumni" worked against him.

Two Assistants Named
To help Fesler over the rocky road he must now travel, Pitt named Mike Milligan and Doc Hartwig, both former Pitt stars, who understand the machinations of the complex athletic setup at the towering Cathedral of Learning. Salary terms were not disclosed nor was the length of the contract revealed.

Milligan was an assistant coach at Tulsa university before returning to his alma mater and Hartwig was one of three assistant coaches who refused to return to Pitt if Shaughnessy was retained as head coach.

See Big Ten Move
By passing a number of ex-Pitt players and naming an alumnus of a Western Conference school gave new impetus to the reports that Pitt will replace Chicago in the western league.

Reliable sources reported seeing the deft hand of Ohio State Athletic Director L. W. St. John in the background of Fesler's appointment.

The new boss has held only one head coaching position since his college days. That was in 1942 when he was head football, basketball and freshman baseball instructor at Wesleyan (Conn.) college, a member of the "Little Three".

He spent ten years as assistant coach at his alma mater before joining Dick Harlow's staff at Harvard. From there he went to Wesleyan and from Wesleyan into the army.

Assistant At Princeton
He joined Princeton's football staff in 1945, and at present he lives in Princeton, N. J., with his wife and three children.

A three-letter man in college Fesler was named all-American during the 1928-29-30 seasons. In the latter campaign he shifted from end to quarterback and was named the most valuable player in the Western Conference.

Fesler was scheduled to report here tomorrow and begin spring training next week.

Baseball Session Called Tonight

Formation Of City Baseball League For 1946 Main Topic For Discussion

Managers of eight or ten baseball teams in New Castle will have a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock at Carnegie place on West Washington street for the express purpose of trying to organize a strong city baseball league for this summer.

Representatives of the following teams will attend the meeting: Slavak club, Shenango Pottery, Sons of Italy, K. Pulaski, Christopher Columbus club, Duca D'Abruzzi, South Hills, Ryantown, West Side Tigers, Moose club, Johnson Bronze and possibly a few others.

New Castle was without a city league last year owing to the war and the fact that so many stars were still in the service.

Church League Ends Tonight

Sacred Hearts Expect To Win Tonight And Claim Championship

New Castle's senior church basketball league will come to an end tonight at the "Y" floor with the playing of three games. By late tonight the Sacred Hearts fully expect to be the 1945-46 champions, (providing they defeat Wampum) this evening, in the first game at 7:30 o'clock.

Avalon Hi Five, Rostraver Victors

Class B Quints Win Semi-Final Contests; Will Engage Friday For Title

In semi-final cage battles last night Avalon whipped E. Washington 54-43 and Rostraver topped the strong E. McKeesport five, 60-51. These results will bring these two quints up to the finale of the league Friday night when they clash at the McKeesport Vocational floor for the WPIAL class "B" crown.

At the Dorment floor the Avalon Panthers had a ball game on their hands until the third period when they turned on the steam to pull ahead of the E. Washington entry with a flurry of 18 points. Avalon class "B" champs in 1944 are seeking to replace the Etna school, last year's winner.

On the Dorment high court Rostraver quints found the E. McKeesport flippers a tough nut to crack as the Allegheny county side put up fierce resistance until the third canto when the Leonards rared ahead to clinch the game. Cliff Popp, highly touted Rostraver forward, dumped in 20 points in the contest.

Stocking Here Almost Complete

Sportsmen Throng Neshannock Hall To Hear Fish, Game Affairs Discussed

GRAHAM TO OPPOSE FIREARMS BILL

Every seat in Neshannock hall East Washington street, was filled by sportsmen and sportswomen when members of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association held their March meeting last night.

The large assembly was due to the coming annual banquet, April 4 in the Cathedral, stocking of trout in county streams and opening of the trout season at 5 a. m. April 15. During the session the association passed a resolution supporting W. M. Roberts of the association for one of two vacant positions on the State Board of Fisheries. The association has 1,043 members and it was also reported the Ellwood City Rod & Gun club with 400 members also is supporting Roberts. The position pays no salary. Only expenses are paid, it was reported.

President Robert Lamore reported plans were progressing nicely for the annual banquet at which 3,000 are expected and said several hundred new members had been taken into the association. President Lamore added that membership blanks and also tickets for the banquet are available.

Fish Commission Warden Clinton White, who was honored with a backhanded support at Mercer recently, reported that stocking of trout streams here has been practically finished but said that after the opening of the trout season, he expected additional supplies of trout to be required. Fish stocked were as big or bigger than legal size.

Game Commission Protector William Overturf reported he has already stocked 96 hen birds and 50 cocks in Lawrence county. Last year only 13 birds were stocked here, according to Sheriff Frank Coen.

Kill One Fox

Protectors Overturf reported 80 persons, members and non-members of the association participated in the fox hunt last Sunday and it was indicated that if weather conditions are suitable, there is a likelihood that another hunt for the vermin may be held yet this year.

One fox was bagged and another haled and escaped Sunday, it was said. Relative to a portion of Spring creek being set aside for fishing with artificial bait, a collection was taken up to defray the cost of the lease of the land through which the stream runs. The stream is in Warren county. Fish Warden White reported that two fish who like to live live bait there will be trout fishing in the vicinity.

Association Secretary Delbert Porter announced that so far the association has not been able to purchase rabbits for stocking but a continuing his efforts.

The association have some time ago appropriated $100 for stocking of bass in the Neshannock creek resulting in plans whereby a commercial firm will be asked if the firm can supply the bass.

May Rescind Vote

President Lamore reported that the association some time ago having voted to withdraw from the northwest district, Pennsylvania Federation of Sportsmen, he had since talked to federation officials and is now doubtful of the wisdom of the move. He indicated that while the association is yet a member because of dues having been paid up to date, he would ask at the next meeting that a vote be taken to remain in the federation.

Congressman Louis E. Graham said in a letter to the association that a senate bill which if adopted would require the registration of all firearms above 25 caliber, came up in the house, he would vote against the measure. Senator Joseph G. Rife has not yet replied to the association's letter of protest against the bill, it was reported.

The association wants the Jordan game farm continued it was stated in the meeting. Five thousand birds were reportedly raised there last year out of which this county got 13 and several members said they would like to know where they had been shipped in eastern Pennsylvania.

Relative to the banquet April 4, Fish Commissioner Charles French and J. Allen Barrett, member of the Fish Commission board, will be the principal speakers.

A chicken dinner will be served and Chairman James Bell will make public use names of all his aides within a few days.

Before the meeting adjourned Fish Warden White requested fishermen to not fish in streams where stock have been stocked and also warned that fishing in them is prohibited from 5 p. m. April 14 until 5 a. m. April 15. There will be one more meeting before the season opens.

FARMERS in Kansas believe they have found a way to get rid of crows. They use dynamite to blast 'em while they roost in trees at night, according to The Pathfinder, March 6 issue, which has been forwarded by W. C. Kenney, 465 Neshannock avenue. The journal reports: "For years crows kept down upon Kansas fields, ate up millions of dollars in wheat, corn, other grains. No matter what the farmer did, he still and crows. But now they think they have found a way to get rid of them. With the help of state game officials, the farmers have resorted to dynamite. They blast the pests at night when they're roosting in trees. The first test, near Battlement river, was conducted over a 15,000 square yard area." The Pathfinder reports the result was 200,000 dead crows. "Bombs are hooked to the trees by wires that run from the main firing cable," the Pathfinder says. Westminster Looks Back Over Years With "Prexy"

NEW WILMINGTON, March 13.—With the administration of Dr. Robert F. Galbreath almost at an end, Westminster college students have been looking back over the years that "Prexy" has been head of the college, and before.

Before taking over the presidency of the school, Dr. Galbreath was a United Presbyterian minister. He was born on October 6, 1884, in the century-old Galbreath homestead on a farm in Butler county, where he used to fill his pockets with chestnuts when he was sent out to bring the sheep in.

Watch Was Reward

One of the boy's outstanding possessions was a slightly gold-washed watch from the general store in Delano, which his father gave him for tramping down load after load of hay in the haying season of 1897. His other "special" belongings were an air rifle, a saddle, a blanket, and a saddle blanket. Dr. Galbreath, an expert horseman still loves to ride.

Westminster college first came into the life of its future president in the autumn of 1903, when a college men selling Bibles spent the night with the Galbreaths. Having just finished a college preparatory course at Cabot Institute, Robert was thrilled by the visitor's tales of campus life. During his freshman year at Westminster, young Galbreath found himself particularly attracted by a girl named Eva Smiley. He still is for since 1909 Eva has been Mrs. Robert F. Galbreath.

Young Missionaries

During the next few years, following his graduation from Xenia seminary in 1910, the young minister and his bride served a mission in the San Luis Valley of Colorado, and then took charge of a mission in Aliquippa, the mill-town growing up around the Jones and Laughlin steel plant. Dr. Galbreath went overseas in March, 1918.

Deadlock On Anti-Petrillo Bill Is Ended

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—The House on Tuesday broke a twelve-day deadlock and voted 309 to 39 to send the so-called anti-Petrillo bill to conference.

Rep. Marcantonio (AL) N. Y., who had held up action previously, forced the House to take a formal roll call.

Marcantonio, leading the fight against the measure, aimed at James C. Petrillo, president of the American Federation of Musicians (AFM), objected to a standing vote of 159 to 23 on the ground that a quorum of 218 members was not present. This forced a roll call.

The New York congressman explained to the House that he had previously blocked sending the legislation to conference "because I felt we were deprived of the right to take a record vote on a very vital matter affecting thousands of American musicians."

The wings of an Iowa goose are upside down. That must be quite a sight—to see it flying in reverse.

Higher Meat Prices Coming April 1

WASHINGTON, March 13.—(INS)—The Office of Price Administration announced that higher retail prices for beef, veal, lamb and mutton will become effective about April 1.

The increase will amount to about one and one-half per cent. OPA said that the new ceiling retail price on beef, veal, lamb and mutton will be announced on or about March 25.

A spokesman said higher retail prices on pork, sausage and variety meats are expected to be made public "about a week or 10 days later."

The agency said that the boost in retail prices of meat will reflect the amount of recent increases in wholesale meat prices.

Veterans Must Register Guns Or Face Stiff Fines

Ex-Soldiers Can Register War Trophies In City Hall March 20 And 21

Returning servicemen who have brought certain types of firearms home with them or have sent them to relatives are required to register their war trophies and are subject to heavy penalties for failure to do so. Wm. Frank Cunningham, investigator in charge of the Pittsburgh Office of the Alcohol Tax Unit announced today.

Not all of the thousands of firearms brought home by the returning veterans are required to be registered. Mr. Cunningham said, but he explained that owners of the trophies should consult local Alcohol Tax Unit officials concerning any firearms they possess.

For the convenience of possessors of firearms in this area, Mr. Cunningham has designated an investigator from the Alcohol Tax Unit to assist in the registration of these firearms and to answer any questions regarding same here in New Castle. This investigator will be stationed in the County Chambers at City Hall on Wednesday and Thursday, March 20 and 21, 1946, from 12:00 noon until 7:00 p. m. and on Friday, March 22, 1946, from 12:00 noon until 4:00 p. m.

War's Wounded Making Poppies

HARRISBURG, March 13.—(INS)—State American Legion Commander James P. Murray announced today that two million poppies were being fashioned by disabled war veterans for sale during the annual fund-raising campaign in May.

More than 1,700,000 poppies were sold last year, he stated.

The proceeds were earmarked for the Legion's rehabilitation work, it was added.

Veterans' hospitals participating in the program were listed as A-Phillips, Coatesville; Perry Point, Philadelphia; Naval Hospital, Valley Forge; Indiantown Gap, Mount Alto and the Soldiers and Sailors' Home at Erie.

MEND SHIRTS TO KEEP THEM WEARING LONGER

Because the supply of new men's shirts is not large enough to meet the demands, homemakers are urged to give special attention to the shirts the men in the family now have.

It is possible to extend the life of a shirt and at the same time improve its appearance. If frayed and worn collars are turned and when they are too badly worn—replace them with new collars.

To turn a collar, carefully rip the stitching along the length of the collar. Mark the center back of both the collar and the neckband with pins or basting thread. Reverse the collar, putting the good side out. Then match the centers and ends and pin and baste carefully, inserting the collar between the edges of the collarband. Be sure the under side of the collar is caught by the basting stitches. Machine stitch carefully along the original line in the collarband.

If the collarband is also worn, rip the stitching where it is joined to the shirt, then reverse as for the collar. Be careful that the new band does not overlap more of the shirt than was in the original seam. Baste carefully and stitch. Move the button to the other end of the band and work a new buttonhole.

If both the collar and collarband are to be replaced with ready-made ones, home economics representatives of the Pennsylvania State college recommend as new ones may be bought at notion counters and come in regular neck sizes of men's shirts.

Frayed cuffs also may be mended. If the cuff is single and the sleeve is none too long, bind the edge with bias binding of a color which matches the shirt or the most prominent stripe in it.

If the sleeve can be shortened slightly, the frayed edges may be turned in. Rip both stitchings along the bottom edge of the cuff, then turn in the worn edges evenly, making sure the new edge is straight. Pin and baste carefully, then machine stitch along the edge and an even distance back for the second stitching.

To Take Years Studying A-Bomb Effects On Japs

Results Of Atomic Radiation On People Of Japan To Require Long Observation

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., March 13.—(INS)—Capt. Shields Warren, U. S. Navy medical officer, said today that years of personal observation will be necessary to determine the effects of atomic radiation on the victims of Hiroshima and Nagasaki bombings.

Capt. Warren, who addressed the American Association of Cancer Research, was one of the investigators sent to Japan to study the medical effects of the bombing.

The investigators were seeking victims who were injured by an "instantaneous dose of irradiation" but it was difficult to segregate the hospital patients as to the type of injury which had struck them. Said Capt. Warren:

"An individual might well be suffering from blast effect, thermal injury and radiation energy simultaneously. Of the 80,000 who died at Hiroshima and the 45,000 at Nagasaki it was very difficult to say what proportion was killed by one or another type of energy."

But he added that it seemed obvious to the investigators that victims who received a "dose of radiation" equal to 500 roentgen units of the conventional X-ray radiation have little chance for survival.

Those suffering chiefly from irradiation had typical flash burns on their bodies and usually lost all of their hair. Capt. Warren said that some of them were beginning to grow "new downy hair" last December, four months after the bombing.

UPSET STOMACHS YIELD INCHES OF GAS AND BLOAT

"I was so full of gas I was afraid I'd burst. Sour, bitter substance rose up in my throat from my upset stomach after meals. I got ERB-HELP, and it worked inches of gas and bloat from me. Waistline is way down now. Meals are a pleasure. I praise ERB-Help to the sky."—This is an actual testimonial from a man living right here in New Castle.

Garden Notes

A good way to destroy tent caterpillars is to rub them from the twigs of your trees when they are just beginning to spin their webs.

Most of the annual vines, such as the cypress vine, the moon flower, the cardinal climber and Impatiens Heavenly Blue, require an early start, either indoors or in a hotbed, if they are to succeed and produce satisfactory bloom.

Many kinds of dahlias can now be grown from seed. It is wise to start the seed early. Kinds to grow include the Colness hybrids and even the large decorative types, the seed of which is often sold by dahlia specialists.

Hardy perennials such as phlox, day lilies, physostegia and valerian can be lifted, divided and replanted as soon as the ground is in condition to work.

This is the time of year to repair and paint trellises because vines recover quickly as soon as new growth starts, even if it is necessary to cut them back severely.

Among other things, dwarf espalier fruit trees should be ordered at this time. Plums, apples, cherries, pears, peaches, apricots and nectarines are all to be had of bearing age.
